

Generix Group named in the 2nd year in a row in Gartner's Magic Quadrant for Warehouse Management Systems (WMS)

Generix Group, a global provider of SaaS Software designed to accelerate today's collaborative supply chains, has been recognized by Gartner for the 2nd year in a row among providers of WMS solutions with its inclusion in the 2020 Magic Quadrant for Warehouse Management Systems.

Moreover, it has been recognized for its completeness of vision and ability to execute.

From a Generix Group's standpoint, this announcement validates the company's focus on the ability to support all actors in the supply chain. We help our customers achieve operational excellence and enabling collaborative supply chain best practices, more than ever challenged in these critical times of Covid-19.

"We believe this Gartner recognition stands as a testimony to Generix Group's commitment to enable the digital transformation of the Supply Chain, powered by innovative solutions and services. It is also, to us, a resounding confirmation that we are doing the right things to help business leaders cope with constantly evolving market conditions and changing customer needs, especially with the actual pandemic crisis impacting everybody involved in the global supply chain", says Jean-Charles Deconninck, President, Generix Group

Highest levels of warehouse automation capabilities

With its Generix WMS solution, Generix Group supports all the necessary complexities of integration with sophisticated and highly automated systems. The solution easily scales to level 4 and 5 warehouses where automation and robotics are key components to clients meeting the objectives of productivity and resilience. As an example, after successfully piloting in the US, Generix Group together with Locus Robotics is rolling out automated warehouse solutions across Europe that include Locus's innovative autonomous mobile robots (AMRs).

WMS and MES seamlessly integrated for Operational Excellence

With WMS and MES (Manufacturing Execution System) working together, businesses involved in manufacturing, retail & wholesale as well as 3PL are capable of better optimization and synchronization as they can now seamlessly integrate the entire spectrum of their key operations, from purchase to final delivery, for better agility and efficiency in order to build sustainable growth.
